Traditional Chung Cake Wrapping and Cooking

Friday, 09 February 2024 - Lunar New Year's Eve

2:00 PM - 5:00 PM

Our Traditional Chung Cake Wrapping and Cooking offers you a chance to discover the most inspiring traditional Tết experience in Vietnam, where you can reconnect with your loved ones and wrap a Chung cake made from rice, fatty pork, and Dong leaves, then gather around the flickering fire and the boiling pot to enjoy the traditional folk dance.

Your family is invited to traditionally wrap a Chung cake, then mark your cake before putting it into the big pot on Canh Duong beach. Your Chung cake will be cooked all night long and returned to you the next day to celebrate the First day of Lunar New Year.

Dragon Dance & Pagoda Excursion

Saturday, 10 February 2024 - First day of Lunar New Year

Dragon Dance Performance

9:00 AM - 10:00 AM | Angsana Lobby

In Vietnamese culture, the Dragon symbolises power, wisdom, and superiority and is believed to scare away evil spirits and bring prosperity and good luck for the upcoming year.

Pagoda Excursion - New Year Prayer

11:00 AM - 12:00 PM

It has been a long-lasting custom of Vietnamese to visit the pagoda, burn an incense and pray for healthiness, happiness, and wealth.

*Advance reservation is required.
